Our Values

Approachability: We are approachable and responsive to the needs of our clients, suppliers, the public and each other. We are responsive and maintain an open-door policy for those who need us.

Fidelity: We are loyal. We lead a balanced life, maintaining balance between the needs of the company and our own needs.

Ingenuity: We are inventive, resourceful and clever in the workplace. We understand that ordinary can be made extraordinary with simple acts. We strive to put the sizzle in our steaks!

Integrity: We have the courage to say “Yes” only when we know we should, and to say “No” at all other times. We are truthful and honest with ourselves and others.

Empathy: We vicariously experience and understand the feelings, thoughts and attitudes of our clients and each other. We walk a mile in others shoes every day.

Adaptability / Flexibility: We have the capacity to change. We accept that unexpected disturbances will occur and are ready to adjust ourselves to new situations and conditions. We acknowledge that our ability to adapt to change impacts our effectiveness.

Empowerment: We “try” to empower the individual to be all they can be by encouraging creativity and ingenuity. We understand our abilities and set appropriate boundaries.

Decision Making: We are effective problem solvers. We understand the importance of deciding and moving forward. We proactively solicit traditional as well as the most up-to-date information, methods, and means to support these decisions. We will not let perfection hinder us from achieving good enough.

We thank all interested candidates; however, only those selected for an interview will be contacted.
